To Whom It May Concern,

It is with great pleasure that I write to you on behalf of Dr. Will McRaney. I first became acquainted with him in 2013 as I gave him a brief tour of Baltimore City. During the subsequent two years my relationship with him was both personal and professional. At a personal level I found him to be warm, humorous and genuinely caring. As a professional I found him to be focused, committed and passionate. As a student of the influence of temperament and personality, my impressions of Dr. McRaney indicate a forward thinking, engaging strategist. In his area of passion, he leaves no stone unturned nor avenue uninvestigated in his attempt at understanding the issues or the most effective approach for advancing the cause. He is well read and well spoken. For any organization in search of a lead strategist I can confidently give him my highest recommendation. It was a great pleasure to have served both under and alongside of him in ministry. I would be honored to provide additional information (443.690.3590).

In His Service,
