Will,

We have asked repeatedly to meet with you and your leadership and you have repeatedly refused. We offered to pay for the travel expenses for your leadership, but again you preferred not to do it.

We are still more than willing to meet with you, with and only with your leadership.

I phoned Bill Warren tonight and appreciate his willingness to listen to some of our concerns. He expressed his confidence in you and your leadership, as well as his desire to see an appropriate resolution to this matter. He also shared his willingness to meet with us, that's all we have been asking for in the past few weeks and months. He asked if NAMB's trustee officers would be willing to meet as well. I've contacted them and they are more than willing.

Please get with Bro. Warren about potential open dates he may have in the new year. Feel free to connect with Jeff Christopherson about a convenient and appropriate time.

Hope you have a blessed Christmas.

Kevin

Kevin,

REGARDING ATTACHED RESPONSE: I invested some long hours during Thanksgiving break to reflect on your concerns and on how it came to be that such misinformation and misperceptions could come to be accepted in your mind as facts without a direct, personal conversation with me on these matters and without checking the facts as the Bible would instruct.

The Kingdom, our mission, and I would have appreciated your accepting one of my two offers to meet with you personally on these matters which could have been quickly be clarified in a personal conversation if you would have accepted my offer.

To provide as much clarity as possible to some misperceptions and some misinformation gaps you had regarding these matters, I invested my heart and mind in the attached letter addressing your concerns and reminding you of our concerns as well in hopes that it would help us get on a healthy trajectory and help us serve the Lord and our mission organizations more effectively.

REGARDING CERTIFIED LETTER: I am highly disappointed in the false statements (I assume unintentional) in your letter, your stated intentions on behalf of our Southern Baptists national missions organization to cancel a cooperative agreement, and that you took this action with my written agreement to you and Jeff to have our Network representative leaders meet with you and our NAMB representative leaders in Columbia. I am going to assume the prior completed clarification document will shed some new light on the matters of concerns, but deeply regret your
